Task 1. Lian Po and Lin Xiangru 思政元素

Task1:

Work in pairs. Talk about the following picture. You can use the word bank as clues.

Word Bank
Warring States	minister	general	civil official	birch
apology	grant	mighty	tolerant	broad-minded

Task 2: Discuss the questions below and then report to the class.

1. Who were the men in the picture?
2. Why was the man on his knees?
3. What was Lin Xiangru's response to Lian Po when Lian tried to face him down?
4. What can we learn from this story?
5. Why is communication very important in workplace?

answers for reference:

1. They were Lian Po and Lin Xiangru. Both of them were ministers of the State of Zhao during the Warring States period. Lian Po was a well-known general while Lin Xiangru was an outstanding civil official.

2. The man on his knees was Lian Po. He felt ashamed of himself for the negative words he had said about Lin Xiangru. Now he was bearing birch on his back to show his apology. Before that, Lian Po was very angry when Lin Xiangru was granted an important position. He thought it was unfair to him because he was a distinguished war hero while Lin Xiangru was a bookish scholar. And he intended to put Lin to shame when he met him.

3. Lin Xiangru did not want to meet Lian Po, neither did he want to fight for the rank with Lian Po. He told people that the mighty state of Qin did not threaten to have war with Zhao because there were two strong men in Zhao, Lian Po and himself. If the two of them were on bad terms, there might be opportunity for Qin to fight Zhao. When these words were passed on to Lian Po, he realized that Lin Xiangru was a man of generosity and he decided to make apology to Lin Xiangru.

4. Here are the three key points we can learn from this story. First, one should be tolerant and broad-minded to others so that they can get along well with each other. Second, it does not matter very much when someone makes a mistake, but it does matter whether they correct their mistakes. Third, one should value the common goal of the team over the individual interests and keep the team united so as to deliver their common goal. 思政元素

5. We should identify the responsibilities of each other clearly. When there is any problem, we should try to find out the truth first and work out the solution together.
